CHARLEROI RED CROSS CHAPTER NOW LOCATED IN NEW QUARTERS

Moved Monday, Fixed Up on Tuesday and Ready for Work Wednesday.

ROOM FOR MORE WORKERS

The Charleroi Chapter of the American Red Cross has moved its working rooms from the post office building, where they were greatly cramped, to their new quarters in the Elks Club room, Fourth street. The moving van was kept quite busy on Monday and Tuesday, transferring the boxes and contents of the Chapter from the old location to the new quarters, which are more commodious and provided with a greater number of conveniences than their former home.

It was quite a task in getting everything arranged, but affairs are in good shape now and work was begun this morning under direction of Miss Leila Nutt, who will hereafter be in charge of the rooms, which will be open five days each week. The surgical dressing room has been located in the gymnasium of the building, while the banquet hall will be devoted to sewing. The other rooms available will be devoted to any other activity the Chapter may have, as they have all been placed at the disposal of the ladies to use as they may deem best in preparing and shipping the various articles for Red Cross work.

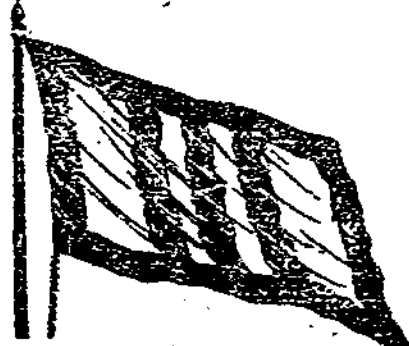

At the meeting of the executive committee, held last Saturday, the finance committee reported that the campaign for monthly pledges with a view of establishing a permanent income of $1800.00 per month had so far secured promises of $780.00 per month, just about half of the amount required to carry on the work in Charleroi alone. This money goes to buy supplies that are made up by the members of the Charleroi Red Cross and then shipped abroad for the needs of the various hospitals in France as well as in England. These supplies are for the benefit of the soldier boys whenever they become patients in these institutions.

It was also reported there were unpaid bills to the amount of $2,700, with only $1,800 with which to pay them, but pledges are due this week and the board hopes to break even.

Charleroi Chapter has sent out a large number of articles, running well into the thousands, neatly packed in over a half hundred boxes, one of the requirements being that the various articles must be placed a certain particular way. When these boxes reach their destination in perfect condition the Chapter gets a blue star, and the ladies are glad to say that blue stars have been coming right along to the Charleroi Red Cross. Moreover, no better proof of the satisfactory work that is being done by Charleroi Chapter is offered than the request from Red Cross Headquarters that the local Chapter make up a large number of sample garments, work on which is now under way.

Monessen Police Making
Clean-up of those who Failed to Register

ONE ALREADY ARRESTED

Monessen police are rounding up draft evaders and Monday evening arrested Jacob Hozier and placed him in the lockup, charged with having failed to register for the draft.

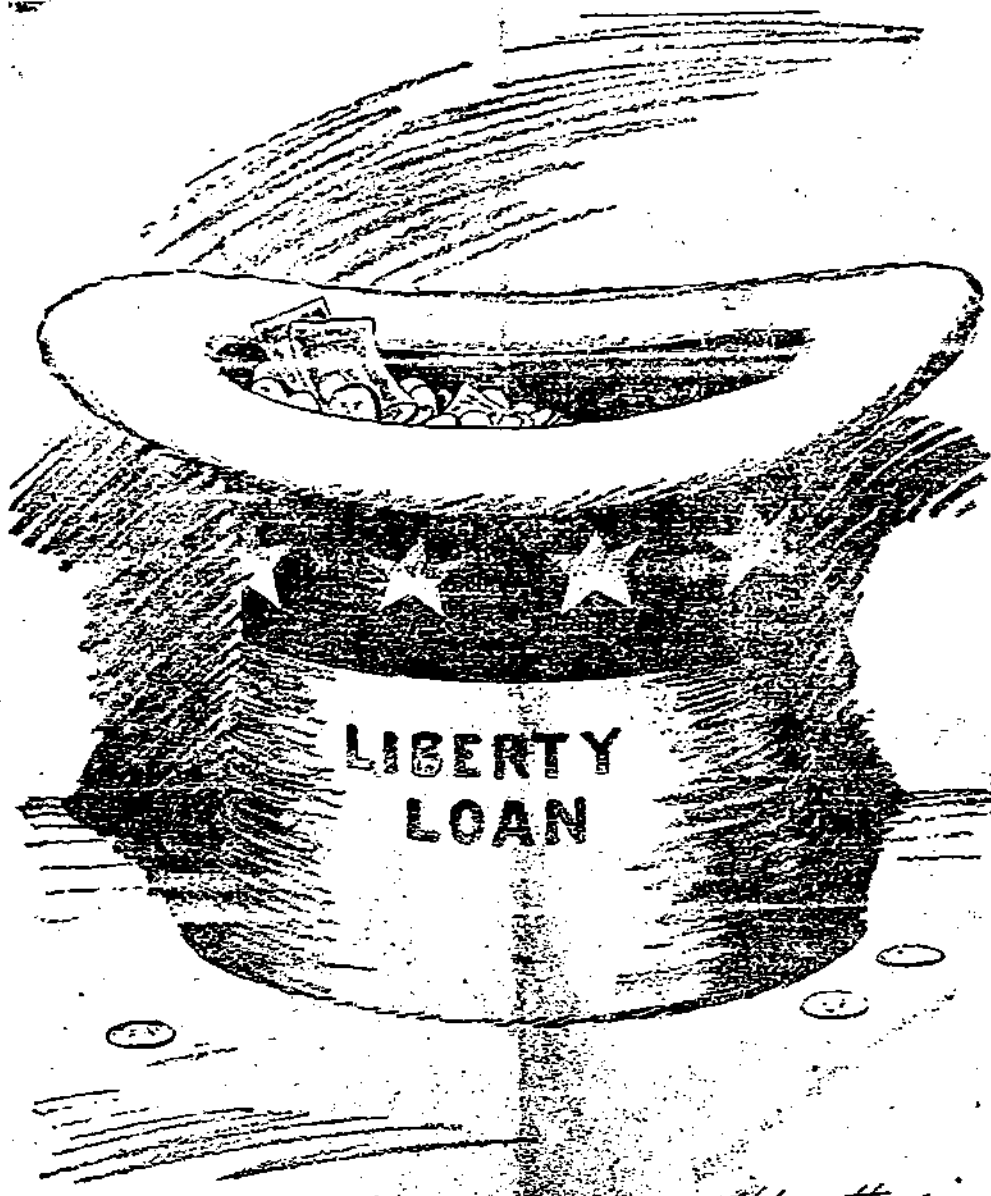

It is alleged that evidence was discovered in which Hozier in making application to a club for membership stated that his age was 29 years. This statement was later verified, according to the story which resulted in Hozier's arrest. He now claims that his correct age is 37 years and that he will be able to establish this fact by family records and former employers. He says he was born in this country in 1881. He has been located in Monessen for over two years and says he can right himself if given an opportunity.

The police of that town expect to arrest at least a half dozen other men in Monessen within the next few days all of whom are claimed to be slackers.

REV. C. G. HUFFER
WILL DELIVER SERMON

Owing to the fact that Rev. C. A. Keller, who was to have preached the baccalaureate sermon for the high school graduating class has arranged to be absent from Charleroi for the summer, the school board and Prof. Pollock have secured the services of Rev. C. G. Huffer, who will deliver the sermon. The sermon will be delivered in the auditorium of the high school Sunday evening May 26 which will be a union service.

Our Four-Minute Talk

A NATION OF BOND HOLDERS

Abe Martin sagely remarks, "Who remembers when we used to knock bond holders?"

There was a time when the bond holder, and particularly those holding government securities of this character, were knocked incessantly and for a purpose. It was a great political slogan which came into vogue after the civil war, and to use a popular expression, the bond holder "got his." Not because he came by his bonds dishonestly, for he took them not only as an investment, but likewise to help the government in times of need. He was paid a good rate of interest and his bonds were paid in full. But the fact that he was fortunate enough to hold one or more of the securities made him a mark for the people at large, who blamed many of the ills of government on this same bondholder, who was accused of helping to shape affairs for his own benefit.

However those days have passed away. The bond holder, is not "knocked" these days, for as a matter of fact there are so many government bond holders in every community that it is difficult to keep track of them. And most of them have become bondholders within the past year. Prior to the late war, the number of bond holders in the United States were comparatively few, but this condition has been changed because of our entrance into the great world war. Bonds are now owned in practically every home in the country and in some families every member is a bond owner. Owning a bond is a badge of distinction and honor, for it shows the holder has faith in the government to meet its obligations. Moreover the bondholders are assisting the government in financing the greatest war of modern times. The proceeds of these bonds will go to provide the men who are at the front all the necessary supplies they may be in need of, in the way of munitions and foodstuffs as well as accommodations for rest billets behind the lines. Our money will go for the benefit of the boys—let us therefore lend liberally and give often.

LIBERTY BONDS IN PLACE OF PICNIC

At a meeting of the Odd Fellows Picnic Association of Western Pennsylvania, held in Charleroi Friday evening last, it was decided to call off the annual picnic for the coming summer, owing to war conditions. It was also decided to utilize the money which was in the treasury, amounting to $400.00 in the purchase of Liberty bonds and this investment will be made at once.

Many Small Subscriptions Have Been Received in the Campaign

MUST REACH GOAL SATURDAY

Eighteen districts have reached their goal in the drive for the Third Liberty Loan. One has quadrupled its quota, two have tripled theirs and another has doubled the amount required. It is also known that one of the communities reported has tripled its amount, but is waiting until the end of the campaign in the hope of making a better record.

Inquiries at the local banks develop the fact that most of the subscriptions made so far are from small investors and that the large investors are possibly holding off until the last minute. Of course the men of means are going to come in; they will be heard from all right; in fact they are in every campaign to the extent of their ability, but the gratifying feature of the whole campaign is the manner in which the wage earner is coming to the front. Every mill, mine and factory have reported their employees as being most patriotic in taking up one or more bonds, buoyed to the extent they are able and all these subscriptions have amounted to a mighty total.

In Washington county the eastern section has gone over the quota by large margin, but this does not mean that all of the districts in this division has reached their goal. Charleroi is not quite up to the mark; Monongahela is short of the desired result, but both of these communities hope to do some very effective work during the next three days. It is known that a large number of subscriptions are yet to be reported and these are expected to be enough to put both towns over the limit.

The townships are also responding nobly. The farmers and other residents of the country are subscribing in a generous manner and are taking bonds quite liberally. The next three days promise to be more than active for it is clean-up time with all committees and they want to make a complete report on Saturday next.

CHARLEROI BOY ON WINNING RELAY TEAM

Edward Riva who is a member of the Freshman class at W. & J. is a member of the relay team of his college and took part in the annual relay carnival, which was held at Franklin Field, Philadelphia, on Saturday last. The W. & J. team won over all opponents in the mile relay the time being 3:39 2-5. Members of the winning team were presented with watches as trophies for their victory.

"OUT OF THE MOUTHS"

Mathilde is only ten years old; but she has lived through the tragedies of centuries. And because of those tragedies she has no one left in the world who really belongs to her.

For Mathilde lived in northern France, right up near the Belgian boundary nine years of her life. And family ties have not been given much consideration in that northern strip of France for the past three years and a half not by those in control of the situation.

She is over here in America now and is doing her best to direct her affections to the kindly family who are trying to make her forget that this is not her real home.

"I had to send her to you," wrote the Red Cross worker whose heart had been wrung so many times in the last two years that it seemed sometimes that she couldn't experience very much more without losing her grip. But she had not done it. She had kept believing that she saw light just ahead.

"It is the wonderfulness of some people that keeps me up," she explained. "The men in the army and the doctors and the college boys that risk their lives every time they drive an ambulance up that road, and the French women—even the children of France."

"I found Mathilde sitting on what had once been the steps of her home," she went on. "She had 'come home,' she said. She didn't know from where. She only knew that her father had been killed 'way off somewhere'—where he was fighting; and her mother had been killed when the Germans shelled the city; and her sister had just been taken away—she didn't know where nor how to go to her. A neighbor had taken little Mathilde in one of those awful flights. But she had 'come home.' She had found her own steps and was sitting there just looking at the ruins of things. I couldn't keep her with me and I knew you would want her. Perhaps she will impress some of our people with what this war means more than I have been able to by writing them."

They were talking Liberty Bonds in Mathilde's new home one day. She had understood enough to know that it meant letting the country have money for the war.

"I told John we had bought all we could afford," acaller said. "I am sure we have done our share. We ought not to be expected to take any more."

Mathilde regarded the caller with very serious, pondering eyes.

"Haven't you any more?" she asked.

"Haven't I any more what?" asked the woman smilingly.

"Any more money."

"Haven't I any more money? Why of course. What a funny child!"

"Then don't you want the soldiers to have it so they can fight? Oh, please let them. I'd give all my dolls and everything I have if I could have my mama back. Don't you want to keep your mama and your sister? It's awful when the Germans come. Please please let the soldiers have your money so they can keep them away."

"What a funny child!" the caller said again. But she said it rather nervously and she didn't stay very long after that.

ANOTHER DRAFT.

The registration board at Donora has received a requisition for thirty-four men from the fifth district, who are to be sent to Columbus Barracks on the night of the 14th of May. This call comes soon after the one which sent 33 men to Camp Sherman on the 26th of April, which makes it appear that these summons are coming at more rapid intervals.

This is true. Throughout the summer there is likely to be calls every month and many of them will be much larger than those that have already been filled. It is the intention of the government to call many more of the thousands of additional men into the service for the war. I have seen a great number of troops in the western front and the government will want them to replace those who have been killed in the many battles which the Americans will take part in. It is true many men have been summoned for duty in the present war yet the man power of the country generally speaking has not been seriously affected. Of course in a community like this section of the Monongahela valley we notice the absence of a couple of hundred men because of the great demand for labor but when we consider the fact that we have almost ten million men registered in the draft of last June it will be seen that many men yet remain at home.

However, if only one man is called into service we miss him. He is engaged in a noble mission and it is our duty to render to him all the homage possible, for he goes on a sacred duty—the fulfillment of which means much to those who are left behind.

DIVERSITY OR SERVICE

The opportunity for service in France in the new military unit to be designated at the Fifty-seventh Engineers, will give rivermen along the Monongahela a chance to exhibit their particular talents for the benefit of our French allies. They will be used principally on the navigable streams of France of which there are quite a number and which are utilized extensively in the transportation system of that country.

The service of these rivermen in France will no doubt be of great benefit to the people of that country. For the Yankee will take with him his ingenuity and will show our French friends many improvements over his present system of steamboating.

The Yankee is resourceful as well as of an inventive turn of mind, and no doubt his talents will be utilized to their fullest extent in the many duties to which he may be assigned while on service in Europe. This will be particularly true of the rivermen and steamboatmen who are experts in the ways and methods in vogue in the states. They will bring to their work a knowledge of handling boats and all craft which may be used on French rivers in such a way as to astonish the natives. Moreover, it will be mutually advantageous. For the Yankee will learn of French methods at the same time realizing the importance of water transportation as applied to foreign inland commerce. And these men will no doubt come back to America with a more thorough appreciation of the value of waterways as they have to do with the development of a nation.

FIVE MILLION MEN

President Crawford of Allegheny College of Meadville, who has just returned from behind the battlelines in France, says that the United States should put an army of five million men in France as soon as possible.

While five million men is a great number, there are others in the United States who are of the same opinion as President Crawford. To end this war quickly and to end it with victory the United States must go into the conflict with all its mighty power, and the sooner we can organize and transport an army of five million men the sooner the conflict will come to an end. Moreover it will be a life conserving as well as a property conserving movement. Once the Germans realize that the United States proposes to put its man power into the field, well trained and well equipped, the military plunderband now dominating Germany will soon come to a realization that their plans are doomed to disappointment and that very soon they must bow to the inevitable and sue for peace.

Moreover, they will assume a defensive attitude. With the fact demonstrated to them that they cannot break through the allied lines and that their present offensive is bringing them nothing but tremendous losses they will change their tactics and retire to entrenchments no doubt already prepared. On the other hand, the allies may not be quite ready for some time to assume the offensive. However, if the United States will mobilize its man power and prepare it for war there will be no question as to the outcome. And the more men we put in the field the sooner the conflict will be over.

WHEN WAR COMES.

Two things there are, and two alone, upon which war feeds. Lives and treasure.

Without lives war could not be waged at all. Without money, loot and force, armies could not be supported. And nations at war must supply both lives and wealth.

When war comes every life is subject to a voluntary call. If the men do not come voluntarily to the aid of arms they may be conscripted. There is no escape. They must do so or uniform.

For when war comes, every man of wealth in the country is subject to the country's call. If dollars are not furnished voluntarily they too may be conscripted. They, too, must get into uniform.

For dollars as well as men may be the traitor to country. They may be courageous or cowardly, just as men may be.

No loyal citizen will long pocket cowardly or traitor dollars. No loyal citizen will leave his country's call especially for money, so long unheeded.

He will be among the first of the Liberty Bond buyers.

He will register early for freedom. Have you registered?

MADE IN GERMANY

There are other things than manufactured articles "made in Germany." Among the products of that country might be named the misleading war bulletins which emanate from the autocratic heads of that government with great frequency and which are intended for world consumption.

The Germans have a purpose in circulating false reports. They were efficacious in Russia and caused the collapse of the Kerensky government which was standing by the allied nations and compelling Germany to maintain large armies on the eastern front. They were efficacious in Italy where they caused a disaster to the armies of that nation which all but wrecked the military power of that kingdom. And now Germany would like to win on the western front by the same methods. However, England and France and Belgium and the United States are "hep" to the designs of the Kaiser and his followers, and it is going to take more than false reports to make the German campaign a success in that sector. The people at home should take all report emanating from Germany in reference to operations in that field of operations with a grain of salt. Our own government will furnish us with all the facts that bear on any engagement and whether it be a reverse or a victory we will be given the information.

Putting this loan over the top will be talking to the Kaiser in the language of Liberty.

To America's Workers

OUR Republic now finds it necessary to ask Americans to contribute to another Liberty Loan. Our country is at war to maintain, to defend the basic principles upon which our free government is established.

Our country calls for service. Each and every man, woman, and child has a personal duty to perform—an obligation accompanying the opportunities freely accorded all. Some have offered and are giving their lives—others their abilities—but all can and should contribute money in accord with their means. It may mean savings—economies practiced in the spirit of patriotic and temporary sacrifices. And yet it is the safest investment in the whole world.

The need is acute—money is the sinews by which we "carry on" the war program. We must not—dare not fail in an undertaking that means so much to all humanity.

Workers of America—you have as much if not more at stake than any other group of citizens. You are urged to subscribe as generously to this loan as is within your power.

Do all that you can for the common cause of democracy and freedom the world over.

Sam Thompson

EVERY INSTINCT TELLS US WAR MUST GO ON

—KIPLING
Plea of English Writer to His Own People Is Applicable to All Americans

POET PAYS HIS OWN TOLL— THE LIFE OF HIS ONLY SON

Without an Allied Victory, He Declares, Earth Becomes Hell Without Hope

(Rudyard Kipling knows war. He knows world politics and relations. He knows Germany. And he has paid his toll—the life of his only son—to defeat her. Because of these things what he has to say carries a message to us over here. Of America, too, it is true that "nothing else under Heaven matters today except that the war shall go on to that end." There is no way of carrying it on unless we let America have the money to use for it. Kipling gives some straight, sound, reasons why the people of this country must buy Liberty Bonds.—Editor.)

By RUDYARD KIPLING,
(In a Speech at Folkestone.)

From time to time the representatives of the Allies meet together and lay down what the war-aims of the Allies are. From time to time our statesmen repeat them. They all agree we are fighting for freedom and liberty, for the right of small States to exist, and for nations to decide for themselves how they are to be governed. All this we understand and perfectly believe. That is the large view of the situation. What is the personal aspect of the case for you and me?

We are fighting for our lives, the lives of every man, woman, and child here and everywhere else. We are fighting that we may not be herded into actual slavery such as the Germans have established by force of their arms in large parts of Europe. We are fighting against eighteen hours a day forced labor under the lash or at the point of the bayonet, with a dog's death and a dog's burial at the end of it. We are fighting that men, women, and children may not be tortured, burned, and mutilated in the public streets, as has happened in this town and in hundreds of others. And we will go on fighting till the race who have done these things are in no position to continue or repeat their offenses.

No Half-way House 'Tween Victory and Defeat.

If for any reason whatever we fall short of victory—and there is no half-way house between victory and defeat—what happens to us? This: Every relation, every understanding, every decency upon which civilization has been so anxiously built up will go—will be washed out, because it will have been proved unable to endure.

The whole idea of democracy—which at bottom is what the Hun fights against—will be dismissed from men's minds, because it will have been shown incapable of maintaining itself against the Hun. It will die; and it will die discredited, together with every belief and practice that is based on it.

The Hun ideal, the Hun's root-notions of life, will take its place throughout the world. Under that dispensation man will become once more the natural prey: body and goods, of his better-armed neighbor. Women will be the mere instrument for continuing the breed, the vessel of man's lust and man's cruelty; and labor will become a thing to be knocked on the head if it dares to give trouble, and worked to death if it does not.

And from this order of life there will be no appeal, no possibility of any escape. This is what the Hun means when he says he intends to impose German KULTUR—which is the German religion—upon the world. This is precisely what the world has banded itself together to resist. It will take every ounce in us; it will try us out to the naked soul. Our trial will not be made less by the earnest advice and suggestions that we should accept some sort of compromise, which means defeat, put forward by Hun agents and confederates among us. They are busy in that direction already.

— O Earth Becomes A Hell Without Hope.

But be sure of this: Nothing—noting we may have to endure now will weigh one featherweight compared with what we shall most certainly have to suffer if for any cause we fail of victory.

The war must go on. The more we have suffered in this war, the more clearly do we see this necessity. Our hearts, our reason, every instinct in us that lifts us above the mere brute, show us that the war must go on. Otherwise earth becomes a hell without hope. The men, the ships, the munitions must go forward to the war, and behind them must come the money, without which nothing can move. Where our hearts are there must our treasure be also. There has been a great deal of money spent in England lately, several millions a day, for the last twelve hundred days. That means that many people have had the chance of earning more money than they could have earned in peace times.

Our security for our loan is not only the whole of the British Empire, but also the whole of civilization, which has peered its resources in men, money, and material to carry on this war to victory. Nothing else under Heaven matters today except that the war shall go on to that end.

What He Gives

THE American soldier is giving up his business position; he is severing his home ties; giving up home comforts; leaving behind those who are dear to him.

He knows that he may never come back and that if he does he will have to start business life all over again, perhaps handicapped by wounds and sickness.

YET HE GOES

Knowing what he is giving up, doesn't it seem a very easy thing to you to LEND your money to the government so that he will not need for anything that money can secure?

THEATERS

Vaudeville of the high class is to give the theatregoers their chief thrill in the forthcoming week. In a program of nine of the best class acts, chosen with reference to their blending and harmonious composite. the Davis Theatre, each afternoon and evening will show "Submarine F-7," a one-act martime drama in which a representation, correct in every detail, will be given of a real subsea fighter in action. The play is an adaptation by James McQueen from the French of "L'Hirondelle" by A. Moreux and J. Perard, and has been localized to America. The story concerns the cruise of an American submarine, its attack of an enemy ship and shows the heroism of the crew under circumstances calculated to try the hearts of the stoutest men. An actual working model—a complete replica of an American sub-sea craft is seen throughout the entire play for the action takes place in the middle compartment where all the apparatus is and where the spectators may see exactly how the boat is handled on the surface, beneath the water and in the process of submarine. Indeed, the complete working apparatus of the submarine is revealed, including the periscope, which registers the accomplishments of the submarine and discloses the movements of the enemy.

For the week starting Monday May 6th, the New Million Dollar Grand in Pittsburgh will present Billie Burke in "Let's Get a Divorce," the latest production from the Artercraft Studio. "Let's Get a Divorce" is based upon "Divorçons," the play by Victorien Sardou produced here a short time ago with Grace George in the principal role. The screen adaptation was made by John Emerson and Anita Loos, who have collaborated on many successful cinema stories. Miss Burke is seen to much better advantage in this feature than in her last Paramount release, principally because she has a more suitable vehicle. The production has been skillfully handled by Director Charles Giblyn.

RESURFACE ROAD TO BENTLEYVILLE

The county commissioners and the controller at a joint meeting held on Tuesday at Washington, awarded a number of contracts for the repair of a number of improved roads in the county. Among them was a contract for the resurfacing of the Charleroi-Bentleyville road for a distance of about one mile, to the Bentleys. Construction company the price to be $25,000. This road will be resurfaced with concrete. Other roads to be paved in a similar manner are the road leading from Washington to New Vienna and the Charleroi-Houston road.

WILL HOLD FIRST FLY ON SUNDAY

The Charleroi Homing Pigeon Club will open its flying season on Sunday, the first "fly" to be from Cadiz Junction, Ohio. The club has fifteen members this year and should have some races. As the homing pigeon has been of great help to the allies in the present war, the club members hope there will become protection for their birds while they are in these races. In other seasons there have been those who have been laying in wait for the pigeons and shooting into the flock as they fly over. It was a common occurrence for club members to find birds on their return to the home lofts with a leg broken or buckshot in some parts of their bodies. The parties guilty of this act probably did not realize what they were doing at the time. However, since the government has made such a demand for the homing pigeons, members of the club hope to have better luck this year. The club will finish the season with a 650 mile fly from St. Louis, Mo.

The offer of the Charleroi Lodge of Elks to turn over their club rooms was an act so greatly appreciated that a special vote of thanks was tendered by the executive committee. In the new quarters it will be possible to accommodate over one hundred workers at the same time. In the old quarters twenty-seven was the limit—now there is room for all who desire to assist in this noble charity.

It is fortunate that the local Chapter has secured these commodious quarters for from far over the sea comes the appeal of Gen. Pershing for many articles of Red Cross manufacture that are absolutely essential for the hospitals as well as the comfort of the men. One particular appeal is for socks, and more socks, for the soldiers are in need of these articles of wear. Moreover, the mighty offensive, now on along the western front is sending thousands of men back to the hospitals and it is for these men, many of whom are our own boys, American sons sent over to fight freedom's battles, that are being wounded in battle and who will have to be taken care of in hospitals. The need for surgical dressings and all other articles that are required for hospital work is urgent and while Charleroi Chapter has greater accommodations and more cheerful surroundings, it also needs the active and hearty cooperation of all those women of the community who can devote a day or more of each week in this splendid charity. It is for the boys "over there" and there are times when they are in need of everything we can do for them.

STEAMER W. C. JUTTE WILL BE RENAMED

Repairs to the steamer W. C. Jutte, now on the Elizabeth Marine Ways are about completed. The boat will be renamed and will be known as the "Keystone," having recently been purchased by the Keystone Sand Company. A new battery of boilers will be installed on the boat and after receiving some other repairs will be placed in commission. The steamer was built by the late W. C. Jutte, when he entered the coal business after the formation of the River Coal corporation. Prior to his death Mr. Jutte had built up a large mining and transportation company which since his death has been sold.

WILL LIKELY REACH THE QUOTA

Reports from the Central Liberty loan committee received by Mr. J. H. Shively before noon Tuesday, shows that the eighteen counties of western Pennsylvania have already subscribed to 5 per cent of the Liberty Bond quota for the district. Some of the counties are below this figure while others are above, but the average is 5 per cent. The figures indicate that the campaign is being pushed with the greatest vigor and will be pushed to a successful conclusion.

Honest Opinion Doctor Gave His Patient

Bedford, Ohio.—"I was in a pitiful condition, weak, nervous and run down so I could not do my housework. I had doctored for years and tried everything under the sun. A friend told me about Vinol. I asked my doctor about it, and he replied, 'It certainly is the best medicine that can be had today. I couldn't give you any better.' I took it, and today I am as well and strong as any woman could wish to be, and it was Vinol that saved me."—Frank A. Horner, Ash St., Bedford, Ohio.

The American Way

America is calling upon her young men to go to the front and risk their lives in the cause of liberty.

America, as represented by you and me, owes these men a great obligation. We owe them the duty of standing back of them in every possible way.

When a man offers his life for his country there is nothing too good for him. Whatever his country can do must be done.

The United States Government is taking every possible step to do its duty to its men and one of these steps is the selling of LIBERTY BONDS to raise the necessary money to provide the men with everything that they need so that their lives and health shall be protected in every way.

Are you doing your share? Have you bought all the LIBERTY BONDS that you possibly can?

TODAY is the day for you to co-operate with the United States Government, to do your share so that the men who are offering their lives to protect the people of America, of whom YOU are one, shall not go in need of anything that money can buy.

BOAT WILL SOON BE IN COMMISSION

The steamer Sam Barnum, which has been practically rebuilt for the Diamond Coal & Coke company, is expected to be in commission in about ten days. The Monongahela steamship company of the boat has been in a few days the boat will be ready for service. The Barnum has been fitted with compound machinery which is fast replacing the high pressure type so long in vogue on the river, because of its greater power and fuel saving qualities. When the Barnum gets into commission the Diamond Coal & Coke company will have four splendid steamers in service, the Monitor, the A. R. Dudd, Volcano and the Sam Barnum.

REBUILDING TIPPLE AT COAL BLUFF MINE

The Pittsburg Coal company is rebuilding its rail and river tipple at Coal Bluff, about six miles below Monongahela and which was destroyed by fire more than a year ago. The Coal Bluff workings have been in operation for over half a century and at one time were the principal industrial operations in what was known for years as the "Linetown Bend." The old names, however, such as Linetown and White Mills have passed away, being replaced by Coal Bluff and Shire Oaks.

FINED FOR VIOLATION OF THE MINING LAWS

Charles Cowell a mine foreman at the Victor Coal company mine No. 2 in Carroll township, entered a plea of guilty Monday to a charge of violating the mining laws. He was fined $50 and costs. It was charged that Cowell had taken a force of men and driven an entry ahead of the ventilation. It was explained to the court that the offense was not done intentionally, but through a miscalculation. Counsel for the prosecution, Alexander McCann, mine inspector, took occasion to criticize the defendant for making the blunder that he did.

MONESSEN GIRLS HAVE DISAPPEARED FROM HOME

Dorothy Fogel, daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Fogel and Julia Malosh, daughter of Joseph Malosh, disappeared from their homes in Monessen last Tuesday and their whereabouts is unknown to relatives and friends. The girls are aged 14 years and were students in the public schools. They were traced as far as Canton, O., where it was ascertained they had been at the home of relatives and left for the west.

The Musical Auxiliary to the Athene Club was entertained at the home of Miss Emma Clutter on Meadow avenue Monday evening. The following program was rendered: Piano solo, Miss Elizabeth Steinbaugh; solo, Mrs. John Metz; piano solo, Miss Lella Orange; reading, Mrs. A. W. Blackburn; solo Miss Lula Buffle; solo, Miss Isabelle Dorbritz; piano solo Miss Buffle. Accompaniments were played by Mrs. G. T. Barger and Miss Bethel Bowman. At the business session officers were elected for the next two years as follows: Director, Mrs. A. G. Lewis; president Mrs. Gray Gaut; vice president, Miss Elizabeth Frew; secretary Mrs. E. A. Nicholson; treasurer Miss Della Swan. During the social hour work was begun on an ambulance robe and the hostesses, Miss Clutter and Miss Nora Swan served refreshments.

YANKEES OPEN THEIR BASE BALL SEASON

California Yankees played a 16-inning game on the Normal ball park on Friday, the contest resulting in a tie score of 3 to 3. Kuhn, the Yankee pitcher, hurled a sterling game and with the support of catcher Pizica, he deserved to win his game; he would have done so had the breaks been 50-50. The Yankee roster is made up of Dunmire, Oates, Demarco, Lape, Kuhn, Pizzica, Richards, Coulter, Humphries, Armstrong and Martin. They have California High scheduled for May 30. Any teams wanting games will inquire of Ed. LaBrosse, Charleroi, Pa.

FILE NO DEFENSE IN MIKESELL SUIT

In the suit of O. Evans Mikesell against the county to recover salary due, which the controller refuses to pay, the county, through its commissioners, has filed an answer in which no defense is made to the claim of Mr. Mikesell, the sealer of weights and measures.

HELPING IN A GOOD CAUSE

The sale of Charleroi have responded to Liberty Bond Sale and no doubt, feel they have gone another step toward "doing their bit." This was called for funds and more funds and the next call comes from our Local Chapter of Red Cross. You see that you have contributed to this cause, also. Charleroi Chapter has already expended a large sum of money but here comes a hurried call overseas from Pershing for bandages and more bandages for our boys who are fighting our battle. Who knows, this may mean some of our local lads. The women of Charleroi can and will make them, as long as the treasury department can buy. Gauze and bandages have doubled in price, consequently the Red Cross needs much more funds for the purchase of supplies this year than it did last. Your fifty cents will help, if you buy a ticket for the Red Cross benefit play, "A Family Affair," under the direction of Jas. S. Russell which will be given in the High School auditorium on Thursday and Friday, May 2nd and 3rd.

The price of admission is fifty cents for adults and twenty five cents for children. No seats will be reserved. Music will be furnished by Prof. I. T. Daniel's orchestra, who will render an especially prepared program of music.

Had Been Sick For 12 Years

"I had been troubled with severe headaches for 12 years, dizziness, would get backache very bad. I had no appetite and my stomach was in a bad condition. I was weak and run-down, could not sleep good and was a nervous wreck and could do very little work. I had become discouraged when I went to The United Medical Specialists for treatment. Today I feel strong and well, have gained ten pounds, do all my own work and all my former troubles have gone."

Was a Bad Case.

"For three years I had been troubled with shortness of breath. I would get so bad at night I could not sleep lying down. I would have to sit up with pillows behind me. I felt all weak and run-down and did not seem to have any strength and together with my age, thought my time for this world was short. I called upon The United Medical Specialists and after a month and a half of treatment, I am feeling fine and working every day."

OBJECT TO RETAIL PRICE OF COAL

On account of dissatisfaction with the retail price for coal, Pittsburg Coal company, D. W. Kuhn, National Association administrator for Washington Monday night, at a conference with the officials of the United States and administration. Mr. Kuhn issued his newest scale of prices for retail coal last week. The prices are to be in effect from April 1st. Since these prices have been made public there has been considerable protest on the part of consumers, many asserting they will have to pay more for next winter than they had contracted. Under the schedule wagon mine owners were permitted to charge about 12 cents per bushel or about $1.12 per ton for their product at the mine. The wagon mine owners were allowed to add haulage of approximately $1 per ton. Consumers who have been patronizing wagon mines recently refused to pay more than $1 per ton for delivered coal, claiming they can purchase fuel of better grade at government price plus the railroad and delivery haul, which in some cases would not amount to more than $3 per ton.

PERSONALS

Mrs. Claude McCutcheon of Washington avenue spent Wednesday in Pittsburg.

Mrs. C. E. Kisinger of North Charleroi left Tuesday for Camp Merritt, N. J. to visit with her brother, Wilson Piper.

Misses Elizabeth Steinbaugh and Mabel Orange visited at Pittsburg Wednesday.

Mrs. Joseph Lichter entertained at "500" Monday afternoon in honor of her sister, Miss Cooper of Baltimore. Mid., who is here on a visit.

LIEUT. MCCORMICK WAS NOT WOUNDED

Mrs. E. S. McCormick has received a telegram from the War Department, which says they have no report concerning any injury to Lieut. E. S. McCormick, now in service with the A. E. F. in France. A rumor was circulated in town saying he had been seriously wounded but the war department has no record of any such casualty.

His Route Was Long and Roundabout but Karnes Is Jackie Now

William M. Wood.

BECAUSE Kansas is 1,500 miles from either ocean, William M. Wood always banked for the Navy. Nothing that his other-minded parents could say on the subject could change his conviction that there alone could be found the things that make life worth living.

However, as the U. S. Government insists upon the formality of parent's permission for the enlistment of a minor, the banking was vain for several years. Finally instead of wearing wide trousers and slinging a gun, he became a clothing salesman and always saw to it that his own clothes were cut after the latest and most approved fashion. The banking was almost forgotten.

Then the United States demonstrated the wrath of a patient land and declared war upon Germany.

Eight days later Wood was an enlisted man in the regular Navy, and he feels as though he had reached home after years of wandering.

Commander Moffat of the Great Lakes Training Station believes tremendously in the power of music, good, strong band music, and when a man comes along who knows the scale, he sees to it that he lands somewhere in the Navy band. Wood played a clarinet. Consequently he is playing it for all he is worth in the Station's big band, and just now is one of the fifty-four men who are giving Navy concerts over the Fourth Federal District to boost the Liberty Loan.

Queer Post Office Names.

Strange names have often been given to post offices in the United States. The latest list shows a place called Ace, in Missouri; an Affinity in West Virginia; a Barefoot in Georgia; a Bigfoot in Texas; a Blowout in Idaho; a Braggadocio in Missouri; a Chuckle in North Carolina; a Difficulty in Wyoming; and a Mud in Texas. The post office doesn't care, of course, so long as the name is written legibly and the county and state are given.

ONE WEAK SPOT

Many people have a weak spot, and too often it's the back. Backaches follow every sudden twist. Dull aching keeps up day and night. Backache is often from weak kidneys.

In such cases a kidney medicine is needed.

Doan's Kidney Pills are for weak kidneys.

For backache and urinary ills.

Good proof of merit in the following statement:

Mrs. A. W. Livingstone, near McKeen avenue, Donora, Pa., says: "My back ached constantly for two years. I had a dull, heavy pain in my loins and in the morning when I stooped over, sharp pains darted through me, much like knife thrusts. I had an idea it was lumbago. My head ached and dizzy spells were common. Three boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills cured me."

Price 60c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Livingstone had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

NORTH CHARLEROI

Mrs. George Hillard of Ohio is the guest of her brother P. E. Franks.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Willis Paxton April 22 a daughter.

Miss Grace Phillips spent the week end with her cousin Miss Anna Miller of Uniontown.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis McVey spent Sunday with Mrs. McVey's parents at Mingo.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis McCook have returned from a few days visit with friends in Pittsburg.

Robert McGowan a student of Carnegie Tech spent a few days with his mother Mrs. Flora Bell.

Mr. and Mrs. William Faulks and daughter, Ruth, Mrs. John Myers and Miss Mary Phillips, motored to West Newton on Sunday and visited with friends.

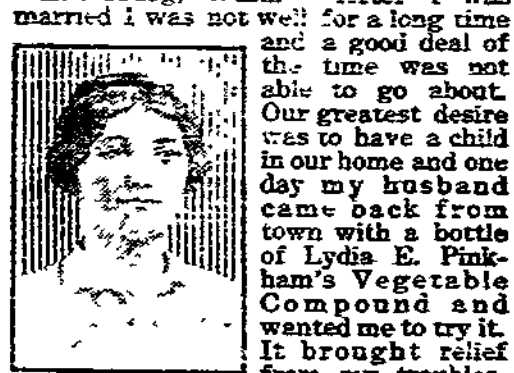

And while you are doing your share with the Liberty bonds, remember that the Red Cross is also a good object on which to spend some of your spare change.

Charleroi is asked to subscribe for over half million of dollars worth of bonds and it looks as if she was going to do it. It is hard to beat this progressive burg.

Vegetable Compound to Restore Her Health

Ellensburg, Wash.—After I was married I was not well for a long time and a good deal of the time was not able to go about. Our greatest desire was to have a child in our home and one day my husband came back from town with a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and wanted me to try it. It brought relief from my troubles. I improved in health so I could do my housework; we now have a little one, all of which I owe to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Mrs. O. S. JOHNSON, R. No. 3, Ellensburg, Wash. There are women everywhere who long for children in their homes yet are denied this happiness on account of some functional disorder which in most cases would readily yield to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Such women should not give up hope until they have given this wonderful medicine a trial, and for special advice write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. The result of 40 years experience is at your service.
